INTRODUCTION

Emotional intelligence (EI) is about the ability to reason and solve problems based on the emotions we experience. In other words, an emotionally intelligent person is aware of emotions in him/herself and others and uses reason to identify, understand, and deal with the emotions effectively for achieving Success "A leader's intelligence has to have a strong emotional component for every success in life, be it at Works or Personal Life". He has to have high levels of self-awareness, maturity and self-control. Leaders/Managers must be able to withstand heat, handle setbacks and when those lucky moments arise, enjoy success with equal parts joy and humility.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVE

☑ Employees with higher emotional intelligence work better as a team for higher achieving Productivity.

☑ Better workplace environment with Greater self-awareness & Greater self-control
